In informal surveys, most people prefer tables over structured text if the domain elements in a Given/When/Then are greater than one.

Here are some “Thens” used as “Givens”

GPS:

As a driver, I want to find the quickest route between a set of destinations

Then Quickest Route is used as Given for “Follow Route”

As a driver, I want to store that set of destinations so that I can retrieve it later

Then Destination Set is used for Given of “Retrieve Destination Set”

As a driver, I want to have the quickest route include determination of when the destinations are open

Then Quickest Routes is used as Given for “Follow Route”

ATM:

As a customer, I want to get my money out as quickly as possible without having to use a PIN

Then of “Record Verification” Then is used as Given for “Withdraw Money without PIN”
